City Of Elba Issues Warning To Violators

Mayor Mullins informed the new Police Chief Bo Dunaway in writing last week that the illegal sale of beer and whiskey in Elba must stop.

This action came as a result of the City Council voting to crack down on the wide open activities of a few brave law breakers.

Chief Dunaway said he would carry out his instructions to the best of his ability but that he would need the full cooperation of the citizens of Elba. The teenage drinking problem came in for special attention and measures have been taken to prosecute any adult caught securing alcoholic beverages for minors.

In a resolution presented to the City Fathers and The Elba Clipper, the ministers of Elba suggested this action and also recognized that there is a personal responsibility on the parents in regard to this matter and the ministers, along with the City Fathers, urged them "to give their young people the guidance and supervision which is their's alone to give".

Draft Picture Is Unchanged In Alabama

State Director Glen Curlee said recently that the recently announced lowered Selective Service standards would have little effect on the Alabama draft picture.

"It will still be necessary to go ahead with plans to induct married men without children in December," Curlee said.

Those who have been examined, and failed, prior to November 1, 1965, will not be re-examined. The Department of Defense ruling is not retroactive, the State Director said.

He pointed out that the order for induction is: 1. Registrants who have been discharged from military or draft regulations. 2. Volunteers. 3. I-A single men, and men married since August 26, 1965, who are between 19 and 26.

Class I-A men who married before August 26, 1965, and who maintain a bona fide family relationship in their home.

In stressing the importance of confirmation with draft regulations, which can lead to an early induction, Director Curlee emphasized failure to register within five days after reaching his 18th birthday.

"Registrants must register at the proper time, and also college students, who have educational deferments, must see that the college or university they are attending has notified the Selective Service System, that they are enrolled."

Curlee also reiterated that it is not necessary for a student just becoming 18 to return to his hometown to register. He may go to the draft board nearest his school. "By giving them his proper home address he will be placed in the jurisdiction of his hometown local board," Curlee said.

5,000 YEARS AGO — The piece of wood being observed here is at least 5,000 years old, according to the State Geologist Department. The wood came from 32 feet underground and before being sucked up by sand drilling equipment was apparently an entire stump or log. The sand company is located south of Elba in Coffee County. The company, organized approximately one year ago, has already contracted for more than $300,000.00 worth of sand, most of which has been delivered and an unlimited amount still available. In the background can be seen a portion of the sand sucking equipment. Pictured is Miss Mary Ann Turner, L. W. Turner, owner of the 300 acre sand pit and equipment, and Miss Alice Wilson, daughter of Lawrence Wilson. Miss Turner is a daughter to the pit owner. Both young ladies are students at the University of Alabama.

The wood, recognized as gopher wood, floated to the top of the water during a sand drilling activity about a month ago. It is reported that the wood was in the process of becoming coal which would have been the next step of development.

Pancake Supper Planned Here

The Elba Quarterback Club will sponsor a Pancake Supper, Friday night from 5:00 until 7:00 in the school lunchroom.

Tickets are available from Quarterback Club members and the cooks promise enough pancakes and sausage for everyone to eat as much as they want.

Kelley Cautions Citizens To Use Caution

Conservation Director Claude D. Kelley said Tuesday that it is imperative that Alabama citizens exercise extreme caution with fires and matches in the woods during the hunting season which opened last week.

State Forester J. M. Stauffer pointed out that the last measurable rainfall in the state came two weeks ago and the woods have been drying out rapidly since.

Stauffer said, "We have been in a critical stage from the standpoint of fire danger for about a week. When the relative humidity fell to 30 per cent and below recently, it greatly increased the fire hazard."

In Jefferson County, where the greatest fire hazard exists, 90 per cent of the forest fires have occurred after the relative humidity fell to 30 per cent.

Stauffer urged citizens to be most cautious with cigarettes and fires and asked them to refrain from burning brush or other debris in the woods.

C. F. Attaway, Chief of the Forestry Division's Fire Control Section, said, "The number of fires has increased almost daily during the past week."

Conservation officials urged motorists to avoid flipping cigarettes or matches from moving automobiles into roadside woods or grass. Ashtrays on a car's dashboard can be a help in preventing forest fires.

Alabama College Plans Support

A program of positive action to show disapproval of demonstrations against U.S. action in Viet Nam, and to "express our confidence in the American government" has mushroomed among students at Alabama College in Montevallo.

The program, set for Veterans' Day on November 11, will include a formal flag raising ceremony, a special convocation address by Senator John Sparkman, a blood drive for U.S. troops in Viet Nam, and a fund-raising campaign to provide a special gift for American forces there.

The idea for such a project was pushed forward by students who formed an ad hoc committee. Committee members quickly found overwhelming support from other students, faculty and administration organizations.

Leading the committee is Raymond Bryant, a sophomore history major at AC from Birmingham. Coordinator of the program is Fred Crawford, also a sophomore from Birmingham majoring in business administration.

Senator Sparkman, who was contacted by Crawford late last week, is scheduled to address a special convocation meeting in Palmer Auditorium at 9 a.m. Thursday, following the flag raising ceremony on the front campus square at 8:50 a.m.

The on-campus blood drive, set from 11 a.m. to 5 p.m., is sponsored by AC's chapter of the Circle K Club, college auxiliary of Kiwanis International and one of the numerous organizations supporting the move.

This current Little Theatre production stars eight of the many talented people making up the Little Theatre Group in Elba. Those presented in this well known play are Jerry Dewberry, Jimmy Peacock, Jim Williams, Lamar Rainer, Linda Roberts and Ruby Bruce. Advance tickets are on sale.

Dorsey Reports High Profits For First Nine Months Of 1965

The Dorsey Corporation recently reported consolidated net income of $1,085,025 for the first nine months of 1965, more than 31 per cent higher than net income of $824,761 for the same period last year.

J. Frank Harrison, president of Dorsey, said the company's net income for the third quarter was $388,043, or 73 percent more than the $223,984 earned by Dorsey in the third quarter of 1964.

Mr. Harrison reported increased earnings by both Dorsey subsidiaries during the third quarter. The subsidiaries are Dorsey Trailers, Inc., which manufactures highway trailers at Elba, Alabama, $25,979,050 for the same period last year. Third quarter net sales were $9,301,451, as compared to $8,902,724 for the third quarter of 1964.

Net income per common share was 39 cents for the third quarter and $1.09 for the nine months, as compared to 19 cents and 76 cents, respectively, for the same periods in 1964. This was computed on a basis of 84,160 shares outstanding, and after preferred stock dividend requirements.

Six buses and one station wagon will be used to transport students to and from the school. These buses originate in Enterprise, Jack, Red Level, Luverne, Pleasant Home and Florida. A station wagon will be used to serve the Coffee Springs and Geneva areas. There is no cost to the students for transportation. A registration fee of $2.00 is charged once when a student registers. The only other fee is that prescribed by the state—$15.00 per month for tuition. A number of scholarships are available for worthy students who need them. Each student is required to furnish his books, tools, etc.

Opp Trade School To Open

The General Douglas MacArthur State Vocational Technical School will begin classes on Monday morning, November 22 at 8:00. Show Your Appreciation

November 11 (today) is Veterans' Day across the nation and in light of the anti-American and anti-war demonstrations going on across the nation this is more than ever a time for everyone to show that he or she appreciates the supreme sacrifice of those who have risked and even given their lives to preserve the freedom we now enjoy.

If we sit and do nothing or say nothing, we allow the loud noises of a few subverters to become the voice of our nation.

The Rotary Club deer hunt is planned for November 20. Approximately 35 tickets have been sold.

Farm NEWS

BY TOM CASADAY, CO. AGENT

FARM BUREAU MEETING
Frank Britt and Phillip Martin, President and Vice President, respectively, of the Coffee County Farm Bureau are in Birmingham this week with other delegates attending the 44th Annual meeting of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation. Other delegates attending are Fred Sherrier, Heber Clark, Ewell Griffin, and Grady Howell. Members of the Coffee County Home Demonstration Council also attending the meeting with them are Mrs. Macon Henderson, Mrs. Ed Hudson, and Home Demonstration Agent Sara Hutchinson.

4-H CLUB PROGRAMS
Coffee County 4-H Club members in grades 7, 8, 9 and 10, 11, 12 will enjoy a movie as part of their 4-H Club program this month. The movie is entitled "Dynamic Careers in Agriculture". Elementary 4-H Club members have a program on Rat Control. We think that a lot of Coffee County boys can select careers in agriculture from high school and college. Agriculture employs a lot of people and we believe this program will help our young boys to gather facts concerning a career.

FOUNDATION SEED
John Henry Day of the McCall's Store community came in last week to put in his application for several tons of Foundation Early Runner peanut seed and Florigiant seed. I appreciate hearing from other growers who plan to plant the Foundation seed so that the orders can be sent to our seed crops specialist at Auburn for processing.

NEW FARM PROGRAM
I talked with E. Dean ASCS Office Manager at New Brockton on Friday last week concerning the new Farm Hill. Dean reports that the President

Game and Fish Division," Kelley said, "and once a decision has been made to allow the taking of a limited number of unantlered deer, adequate notice will be given to the public." Kelley said that if an area is selected he did not foresee any possibility of shooting the unantlered deer until sometime in December and then only in a prescribed area where controlled permits would be issued.

Deer-hunting demands much more energy than the part-time hunter puts out during the rest of the year, Alabama Heart Association reminds you. Before you hunt, make sure your heart can take it. See your doctor for a health and heart check-up.

TOP TEN GROWERS
Coffee County's Top Ten Growers in the More-Corn-Per-Acre Contest are Ira Allen, Hubert Bailey, Al Britt, Frank Britt, Hubert Bryan, L.B. McCull, Carl Sanders, Kenneth Sanders, M. J. Sanders, and A. W. Wilson.

AGRI-BUSINESS MEETING
President J. D. Hays, of the Alabama Farm Bureau Federation, will meet with the officers and directors of the Coffee County Farm Bureau and with other Farm and City Leaders in New Brockton, Tuesday night, November 10. This will be President Hays' first visit to Coffee County since he became president some four years ago. Understand that all directors of the Farm Organization are invited to attend the special meeting with their wives and other community leaders. I know that this is going to be a fine meeting which will create a better understanding of the Farm and City relations, but a program such as Farm-City Week will help to create an even better understanding.

FARM-CITY WEEK
November 10-26, is over America. In a few days you will notice huge highway signs showing 32 people seated at a table. The sign points out the fact that one (1) farmer in America feeds 32 people. Here in Coffee County we have excellent rural-city relations, but a program such as Farm-City Week will help to create an even better understanding.

Unantlered Deer Shooting Illegal
The shooting of unantlered deer will not be legal in any Alabama County, the Department of Conservation announced recently. Conservation Director Claude D. Kelley stated that local laws passed by the Legislature merely granted power to the Department of Conservation to regulate the taking of unantlered deer in overcrowded deer herds, and, as of now, no areas have been opened by regulation. "We are presently carrying out a detailed investigation through our

4-H COOKBOOK AWARD
Every year at this time one girl 4-H'er in each county is given an opportunity to receive a cookbook presented by General Foods Corporation. In Coffee County the recipient of this award was Angie Wesley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kirby Wesley, of Mt. Pleasant. To be eligible for the cookbook, Angie submitted her foods project record which was then sent to the state staff in Auburn. Angie, an outstanding 4-H member and leader in club work, is now in the tenth grade at Enterprise High School. We are very proud of her and know she will continue doing a fine job.

4-H CLUB MEETINGS AND SCHEDULES
The regular monthly

I-H Club meetings in our county are again in full swing for November. Some of the clubs which meet this week are Damascus, Goodman, Mt. Pleasant and Zion Chapel.

The topic of the program in the elementary girls' clubs will be "Simple Table Settings". The junior and senior girls' clubs are scheduled to be presented a lesson in Consumer Education, the title being "How to Look For and Select Packaged Food Mixes".

In the junior and senior boys' clubs, agricultural careers are being emphasized. The movie "Dynamic Careers in Agriculture" is to give additional information. "Rat and Mice Control" is the subject being given in elementary boys' clubs.

MR. JAMES ESTES

Our office is very happy to have Mr. James Estes with us temporarily. We have "borrowed" Mr. Estes from the Dale County Extension Service in Ozark for a brief time, he is conducting the boys' 4-H Club meetings in Coffee County. We certainly appreciate his assistance at this extremely busy time of the year.

Rural Carriers To Make Farm Survey

Postmaster Robert Cooper announced today that rural mail carriers and star route contractors operating from the local Post Office will aid farmers in this area in a State-wide livestock inventory survey. A "postcard" size December Livestock Survey Questionnaire will be placed in the mailboxes of some of the farmers along rural routes shortly after the middle of the month. This will signal the start of an inventory of the livestock and poultry industry, one of the State's largest. Last year this industry pumped $345.5 million into the State's economy through direct marketing and many additional millions indirectly through related enterprises.

Mr. Cooper said the cards do not require a postage stamp. George B. Strong, who heads the Alabama Crop and Livestock Reporting Service, said reports based on this inventory will be sent to individuals and to the news media. The reports will give inventory numbers, the size of the calf crop and fall pig crop and a forecast of the number of pigs to be born next spring.

Elba Native Phases

The Elba Tigers defeated the Troy Trojans by a score of 14 to 7 Monday night in their best game of the season.

The final game of the Elba Tigers was mostly won on the ground. The Tigers improved their record to 6-4.
